

4-day / 3-night Split to Dubrovnik one-way cruise Itinerary

Day 1: Split to Makarska

Jump on board and meet your Captain, crew and shipmates! Check-in is from 11am and we aim to depart Split for Makarska at around 1pm to get the cruise started with lunch and a much-needed swim stop.

We get into Makarska late in the afternoon, giving you time to go around the town, enjoy a gelato and have dinner. Two of the most popular ways to spend the evening are at the new Makarska observatory, or at the famous Club Deep, an amazing club in a cave directly on a beach.

Day 2: Makarska to Mljet

Our boat leaves early for the crossing to Mljet Island. After lunch, we have the rest of the afternoon free to explore this island's stunning National Park and its lakes.

Options for this exploration: hire a bike/kayak, or simply go for a hike. We also offer an optional onboard BBQ this evening (either in Mljet or we might head over to Slano or Sipan island) as the sunset setting is perfect.

Day 3: Mljet to Dubrovnik

With some gorgeous bays around Mljet, Slano and Sipan, we are spoilt for choice for a swim stop this morning. We then cross to Dubrovnik through the Elaphite archipelago of islands.

We arrive in Dubrovnik in the afternoon, which gives you time for activities such as walking the famous walls, or sampling a cocktail at one of the cliff bars.

There are plenty of restaurants to choose from around the Old City, as well as events at clubs such as Revelin.

Optional excursions: a guided walking tour of the city.

Day 4: Dubrovnik

Check-out from your cabin is after breakfast, by 10am, but you can leave your bags on the boat as there is still plenty to see and do!

We recommend: Doing the awesome buggy safari on Mount Srd, with a bird's eye view of the Old City and Elaphite Isles or taking the cable car up the mountain to get the same panorama.
